++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Dry and bright for most but feeling cold.

Today:

A dry and bright day for most, with sunny spells, these most frequent in the west. Northern coasts may see some brief, patchy showers at times. Feeling rather cold, with brisk winds. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:

Remaining largely dry with patchy cloud. Eastern areas and northern coasts may see scattered, wintry showers during the early hours. Feeling cold, with clear spells bringing a risk of frost. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Wednesday:

A chilly start though some cloud through the morning. This will gradually clear, leaving a largely dry day with sunny spells, western areas seeing the best of these. Feeling cold. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Largely dry, with any showers along northern coasts, clear skies and sunny spells, but continuing to feel cold. Overnight frosts and some lingering freezing fog likely.
